

Industry of You

Interactive, hands on, future planning, and self-determination experience for youth

- ❖ Designed for middle years youth to enhance their esteem building and career planning at an early age
- ❖ Starts with hands on career related experiences at 5 to 10 stations that engage and interest the students
- ❖ Stations with activities in trades, mining, health, information technology, and resource management
- ❖ Continues with workshop segment that encourages knowing yourself and valuing what you have to offer
- ❖ Undertake a challenge activity that enables participants to see value of their contribution
- ❖ Have reflection that encourages participants to understand the value of their skills and contribution
- ❖ Offered in small or large schools

To find out more about how you can become involved in offering Industry of You to northern schools, please contact:

Keewatin Career Development Corporation

Randy Johns, CEO

Randy.johns@kcdc.ca

